ONE MURDERER TO THE PEN AND TWO SENT TO HUNTINGDON.

John Gazzan Is Given 17 Years for the Killing of James Mead at Republic Last October.

COURT SORRY FOR KOWATZ

And Hopes That He and Gillespie Will Make Men of Themselves Yet. Brownsville and Fayette City Gambling and Liquor Cases Disposed of by Heavy Sentences.

UNIONTOWN, March 28.—Sentence court convened this morning at 9 o'clock with Judges Umbel and Van Swearingen on the bench and sentences were imposed in all the important cases that were before the court.

John Gazzan alias Gaffney alias Williams convicted of murder in the second degree for the killing of James Mead at Republic last October was sentenced to 17 years in the Western Penitentiary. Attorney S. R. Goldsmith made a plea in behalf of Gazzan and asked that the court show him leniency. Judge Van Swearingen in reviewing the case said that Gazzan might consider himself lucky in escaping a first degree verdict and then pronounced sentence.

George Kowatz the 19 year old Slav boy who shot and killed Steve Garbos at Republic was sentenced to Huntingdon Reformatory. Attorney J. S. Dumbauld appeared for the boy and asked that the court send him to Huntingdon where he still might have an opportunity to get along in life. Judge Van Swearingen commented briefly on the case and said that it was a terrible start for a young man to make in life and he felt sorry for him. He said that killing a man under any circumstances was not excusable. He also recalled the great deal of discomfort and how many times the young man was driven to desperation by the older man on account of being teased. He felt that Kowatz who was young and intelligent would be able to make a new start with the education facilities afforded him at Huntingdon and he hoped that he would make the most of these.

Anthony Gillespie of Everson who was convicted of second degree murder for the killing of John Stevenson at Everson was also sent to Huntingdon Reformatory. The killing took place out side of the Europa House February 17. R. P. Kennedy appeared for Gillespie and said that he came from a good family and had a good record. His only failing being too much indulgence in intoxicants. Judge Van Swearingen said that he had been apprised of these conditions and he hoped that the young man would keep better company and also get liquor alone when he was released.

The imposing of sentences in the Brownsville gambling case was then taken up. A. M. Sargent the Brownsville Councilman who entered a plea of guilty to permitting gambling on his premises was sentenced to pay the costs of the case $400 fine and serve 90 days in jail. If the fine is paid the jail sentence will be suspended. Other charges against him were dropped. Sentence only a plying to one count in the indictment. George A. Nolan arrested in the same raid and charged with conducting a gambling house was sentenced to pay the costs $100 fine and 90 days to jail. The same provision regarding the jail sentence being imposed.

Russ charged with keeping a gambling house $300 fine 90 days to jail with a provision for the suspension of the jail sentence on payment of fine.

Joseph M. Stolo the Fayette City druggist who entered a plea of guilty to the sale of liquor without a license was fined $500 costs and 6 months to jail. The jail sentence to be suspended on payment of fine.

B. M. Mochelsted arrested at the same time on the same charge was called but was ill and could not appear.

Patrick Kane of Fayette City who pleaded guilty to conducting a gambling house was fined $50 and costs with jail suspension provision.

Frank Kirkfield same charge costs and $100 fine with suspension of jail sentence on payment of fine.

Charles Galloway the 14 year old boy of Everson who entered a plea of guilty to breaking and entering along the Pennsylvania railroad was sentenced to Morgantown.

Elmer Younklin who entered a plea of guilty on the same charge was directed to be sent to Polk School. This is a school for weak minded and is the request of the Ladies Aid Society that he be sent there.

Dr. S. L. Rockwell of Connelville convicted of practicing medicine without being registered had sentence suspended and was directed to pay the costs. Judge Van Swearingen directed him to stick to straight osteopathy and optical work and to disassociate himself with Dr. Davis and not have anything to do with him in the future. Attorney R. S. Matthews made a plea for him and admitted his connection with medical practice but did not admit his guilt except in a technical way. He promised on behalf of Dr. Rockwell to discontinue in any way the practice of medicine.

Layford Townsend of Fairchance who has been in the penitentiary and in many legal difficulties this morning in answer as to what he had to say for himself said "I consider the punishment that I have received has made me a better man and I will lead a better life. Townsend was before the court on a larceny verdict in which he was directed to pay the costs and also the costs of a civic non support and desertion brought against him while he was in the penitentiary. A full sentence of one year against him will be suspended upon the payment of the costs.

PASS ALDRICH BILL.

Senators Line Up 42 to 16 on Previous Question After Long Discussion.

MEASURE NOW GOES TO HOUSE

Any Amendments Offered But Few Accepted—One by LaFollette Gets Through—House Entertained by Tale of Interview at the White House.

Washington, March 28.—The Aldrich currency bill passed the senate by a vote of 42 to 16, in the main a party vote. Previous to the taking of the vote on the Aldrich bill a vote was taken on the Bailey substitute authorizing the government, instead of the national banks to issue emergency circulation for which the bill provides. The vote on the substitute stood 12 to 18, and this vote was entirely partisan, even Senator LaFollette casting his vote with the Republicans. The bill has been before the senate since Jan. 9.

An interesting feature of the passage of the bill was a reiteration by Mr. Aldrich of his promise to bring in a bill for an investigation of the entire banking system of the country with a view to facilitating reforms.

As passed, the bill provides for not more than $500,000,000 of emergency currency to be issued to national banks upon the deposit by them of state, county and municipal bonds to be approved by the secretary of the treasury. The currency is to be issued with a view of securing an equitable distribution of the currency over the United States and in accordance with the unimpaired capital and surplus of banks in each state. Banks are to pay for this emergency circulation 1/4 of 1 per cent a month during the first four months it is circulated and afterward 1/2 of 1 per cent a month. The bill provides that national banks shall pay not less than 1 per cent on government funds deposited with them.

What the bill provides.

As amended, the bill carries an important change in banking laws relating to bank reserves. This amendment provides that of the 15 per cent reserve required to be kept by banks not in reserve cities four-fifths of this is to be in the vaults of the banks and that amount one-fifth can be in the form of securities of the kind required. By another amendment the period during which 1/4 of 1 per cent interest is to be charged was reduced from six to four months, after which 1/2 of 1 per cent is to be charged until redemption.

At the instance of Mr. LaFollette an amendment was adopted prohibiting any national bank from investing its funds in stocks or other securities of a corporation the officers or directors of which are officers or directors of the bank and providing a penalty of imprisonment of from one to five years. In accepting this amendment, Mr. Aldrich stated that he had not time to consider the amendment fully, but was in sympathy with its general purpose. He said it could be perfected in conference.

The proposition to insert a provision for a government guarantee of deposits in national banks was the subject of an extended debate and was defeated by a vote of 11 to 45, most of the Democratic vote being against the proposed amendment.

Another amendment offered by Mr. LaFollette prohibited loans by national banks to its officers or to any corporation, the majority stock of which is owned by the officers of the bank. It was rejected as was also an amendment offered by Mr. Nelson of Minnesota, providing that no officer or employee of a national bank shall be a member of a stock exchange or engaged in buying or selling stock or bonds on a commission basis.

Senator Teller offered, on request of Senator Bailey of Texas, who was absent, the substitute currency bill of the senator from Texas, which, he stated, was in the main similar to the Aldrich bill, with the difference that it provided for government instead of bank paper and asked for a roll call. The vote was 13 to 42 against the bill.

The agricultural appropriation bill was before the house of representatives during most of the day. Discussion of the measure hinged for the most part on the work of the department in investigating the extent of insect infestations among dairy cattle in the United States. The consensus of opinion was that this was an important field and the subject one of great importance to the health of the people particularly children. No material amendment had been made to the measure when its consideration was suspended for the day.

The question of whether or not President Roosevelt is an intolerant man after the fashion of King George III arose in the house of representatives. The discussion was founded on a local newspaper story covering what purported to be the details of an interview between the president and Representative DeLoach of Michigan, in which the president was represented as thumping his desk and berating Mr. DeLoach for having joined in the report of the subcommittee on the judiciary censuring Judge Wiley of the United States court in Ohio. On the statement of Representative Williams of Mississippi, the minority leader, that he proposed to offer a resolution to ascertain if the president had encroached upon the privileges of a committee of congress Mr. DeLoach absolved the president from the suggestion of intolerance made by Mr. Williams and said that the president in the conversation which took place had displayed the greatest liberality in receiving his explanation of the circumstances leading up to the filing of the report. He denied that the president thumped his desk, but admitted that he gestulated a good deal.

A resolution for the erection in this city of a monument to the memory of General Lee, commander-in-chief of the Confederate army, was introduced in the house by Representative Fernald of Idaho. The bill expresses in the resolution that "the erection of a statue in commemoration of General Lee will contribute in a marked degree toward blotting forever from the minds and thoughts of the citizens of the nation the late unfortunate conflict." The sum of $100,000 is appropriated to carry out the provisions of the resolution, which was referred to the committee on library, of which Representative McCall of Massachusetts is chairman.

William Barrett Ridgely, controller of the currency, has presented his resignation to the president to take effect upon his acceptance of the presidency of the reorganized National bank of Commerce of Kansas City.

QUAKE DESTROYS CITY

Chilapa, Mexico, Town of 15,000, Shaken and Burned.

Mexico City, March 28.—Chilapa, a town of 15,000 inhabitants in the state of Guerrero, has been shaken by an earthquake and burned.

The shocks, two in number, were followed by fire, which, originating in a dozen places among the tumbling buildings, joined in a conflagration that swept the town. Only meager facts of the disaster are known here, and what has been learned has dribbled in from half a dozen sources, more or less authentic.

Bolton, Wis., March 28.—The four-story wall of the "Grand Hotel" in Bolton, Wis., was found to be the phenomenon on the farm of Charles Lathrop, north-east of Bolton, was active. The wall roared for several weeks before the great earthquake at San Francisco and the curious sound of rumbling, together with wind from the north of the wall, caused at the precise hour when the shock struck the California city. On the day a little more than a week ago when the wall resumed its clamor residents of Rock county predicted a calamity. It came at Chilapa, Mexico.

The earthquake which is reported to have destroyed the Mexican town of Chilapa undoubtedly is the same disturbance that shook the island of St. Thomas, which was recorded at Washington, and which caused considerable alarm in Mexico City. At Washington ten shocks were recorded by the instruments of the weather bureau. They were approximately at a distance of 2,400 miles. The first took place at 5:09 p. m. and the second at 10:54 p. m. In addition to this, there was recorded on the afternoon of March 25 at Washington evidences of a strong shock believed to be in the same locality.

The shocks in Mexico City cracked walls all over the city. The theatre crowds rushed to the streets and for a short time there was considerable apprehension. No great damage was done.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

New York, March 28.—Dun & Co's Weekly Review of Trade says today:

"Retail trade in spring goods has made further progress and the comparative buying by dealers in preparing for current distribution is now providing a good supplementary demand from wholesale and jobbing houses. Unusually advanced weather in many sections stimulates business, and agricultural work is making an early start. In the leading industries there is evidence of gradual increase in contracts, many plants preparing for greater activity on April 1, while proposed reductions in wages have produced no threats of strikes. Too best news of the week as to manufacturing conditions comes from the leather industry, although shipments of footwear through Boston are only about two-thirds those of the same week last year. Dispatches from the west and south are most favorable as to the general commercial situation, a few cities reporting the volume of business fully equal to last year's, and these statements are supported by bank exchanges at those points about the same as in 1907. There is still complaint regarding mercantile collections, although improvement is noted. Progress in the iron and steel industry continues irregular, activity increasing in the wire and plate departments, while heavy lines await a revival of normal demand. The outlook is encouraging, however, because of improvement in the financial situation."

Erle Conductor Killed.

Meadville, Pa., March 28.—Erle conductor James DeLoach of Meadville was killed on the Housenier railroad at Osgood. He was taking an Erle freight over the Housenier. The train broke in two, pulling a drawhead, and while between the two sections attaching a chain conductor DeLoach was caught and fatally crushed.

Toledo, O., March 28.—After a hearing on motions filed by creditors for the removal of George A. Yale and Albert L. Pope as receivers of the Pope Motor Car company, United States Judge Taylor appointed F. A. Scott, secretary of the Superior Trust company of Cleveland as third receiver to represent the interests of creditors.

TROOPS TO QUELL DISORDER

Sent to Douglas Island, Alaska, Where Miners Are Striking.

Washington, March 28.—Troops have been ordered to the Treadwell mines on Douglas Island in Southeastern Alaska, where a miners' strike is in progress. The troops will go from Fort William in Sitka, which is only two hours' journey from Treadwell by steamer. It is stated that a lot of dynamite is falling into the possession of the strikers and a threat has been made to blow up some of the shafts.

The order directing the troops to go to Treadwell places the responsibility for their use after their arrival entirely on the United States marshal at that place. It says: "It is for the marshal to determine when an emergency exists that necessitates the employment of the military force."

The commander of the troops is to direct their movements in carrying out the duties of the marshal. It is stated in the telegraphic report from the acting governor of Alaska that a majority of the miners involved are foreigners and do not speak or understand the English language.

BODIES FOUND IN WOODS

Tragedy Sequence of Relations of Williamsport Couple.

Williamsport, Pa., March 28.—The discovery in the wood near here of the bodies of Frank Roberts and Miss Gertrude Brizel closes a double tragedy. Murder and suicide for such the crime is officially deemed to be, occurred probably on the day when Roberts and Miss Brizel were seen to leave the woman's home together. Both had bullet holes in their heads and close by the hand of Roberts lay a revolver with two chambers empty. No other clues on the ground had been found that Roberts had killed the woman and shot himself.

Both were French Roberts is known to have a wife living in the old country. He was thirty years old. Mrs. Brizel was twenty-four. She is survived by her husband and two children. Mr. Brizel was born in Belgium for some time, but is expected home any day. It is this prospect coming of the woman's husband that probably drove the pair to suicide.

WILD CONEY WHIRL

Of One Hundred Feet in Air and Then Plunge Into Water.

ODDITIES IN MEN'S CLOTHES

Autopsy Held Recently on Man Whose Heart Was Found Normally Placed on the Right Side of His Body.

Special to The Courier.
NEW YORK, March 28.—A wild whirl nearly one hundred feet in the air, a sudden dip to the ground and then a plunge beneath the waters of a small lake is the sensation proffered visitors to Coney Island this summer. This is the newest "thriller" that has been added to the hundreds of attractions that make Coney famous the world over. While few managers have made their plans public as yet, still the first wild days of spring have awakened interest in the popular resort so that the crowds have begun to speculate as to what sensations have been instilled during the winter months. This latest "thriller" is to be a mono-railroad built on scientific principles. The track is to be about two miles long, and after a series of dips, the track will rise to a point about one hundred feet above the ground. Here the cars will round a sharp curve hanging at an angle of forty-five degrees and then make a sudden dive into a lake of real water. But the passengers won't be obliged to wear rubbers or carry umbrellas, for by means of a tube running beneath the lake will be concealed from the passengers, driving them a genuine sensation without danger of getting as much as a drop of water on their clothes.

On the upper part of Fifth avenue, in the millionaire district where pure old-fashioned sentiment is supposed to have no place amid the mad rush for social distinction, stands a small two-story frame house. Surrounding this reminder of simpler and less extravagant days are the modern palaces of Gotham's multi-millionaires. This little wooden structure is tucked in behind the palatial residence of James M. Constable, at Eighty-third street and Fifth avenue, and in this house Mr. Constable was born. When he built his magnificent home on the corner he found it impossible to destroy the home of his father, clustered as it was with so many happy memories of his boyhood days, so that he not only preserved the house but has kept it in repair ever since.

While fashion is supposed to preserve certain clothes for certain functions, the variety of costumes displayed by a fashionable crowd at the opera is so widely that it is easy to believe that the wealthy feel entirely independent of fashion and convention. Every kind of a gown and odd set of trinkets are displayed. Gowns that are cut so low that you wonder how the wearers dare to appear outside of their own boudoir, and jewelry such as three hundred thousand dollar necklaces, which cause those who are sitting in the two dollar seats to wonder why anyone would carry such a fortune around them, where there are sure to be some pickpockets. But the oddities in dress are by no means confined to the women. Only the other night a man appeared in one of the boxes wearing a pink coat, and yet committed, what was considered an insult to fashion, by wearing a made tie. In another box sat a man with a gold bracelet around his wrist, and in addition had a monocle with a conspicuous tortoise shell rim.

An autopsy on the man who died at one of the city hospitals the other day revealed, without any startling condition that amazed the medical profession of New York. It was discovered that although he had enjoyed good health up to the time of his death, that he had lived with all of his vital organs out of place. The heart and stomach were found on the right side and the liver on the left. None of the experts who saw the autopsy could recall any record of such a complete transposition of the vital organs.

OLD FIGHTER.

Jem Mace Celebrates His 75th Birthday and is Still Hale and Hearty.

Special to The Courier.
NEW YORK, March 28.—A dispatch from London says that Jem Mace, the old-time fighter celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday this week, hale and hearty and looking exceedingly young for a man of his years. He continues to take an active interest in sporting affairs, though it is now more than a quarter of a century since he retired from the ring. Recently he posed for a picture with "Tommy Burns, the American champion, and he has taken a lively interest in the whirlwind manner in which the latter has cleaned up the best of the English and Irish fighters.

In view of the many fighters that have come and gone since Mace held the championship, it seems almost difficult to believe that the latter is still in the land of the living. Mace was in the heyday of his career when over John L. Sullivan was born, and the latter is looked upon as one of the old timers.

Jem Mace made his American debut in this city, February 11, 1870, in a sparring exhibition with John C. Heenan. Prior to that time he had cleaned up all of the English heavyweights. Nine years previously he had bested Sam Hurst for the championship. In 1882 Tom King bested Mace for the championship in a twenty-round fight. King would not give Mace a return bout and the title reverted to the latter. The next year Mace met and defeated Joe Goss in a fight for $5,000 and the championship. In 1881 Joe Goss, then the best of American heavyweights, left New York for London with the intention of winning the championship from Mace. A fight between the two was arranged to take place at Pierstown, Ireland, but Mace left for England the night previous, owing to failure to agree upon the referee. The stakes were drawn and Goss returned to New York. During the next two years Mace twice fought Joe Goss, drawing in one bout and winning the other.

The first big fight Mace had in the United States was with Tom Allen whom he defeated in ten rounds at New Orleans, May 10, 1870. In May 1871, Goss and Mace were to have fought for the championship at Fort Dover, across the Canadian line, but the military interfered and prevented the contest. The two met in Mississippi the following November, the bout resulting in a draw.

All of the fighters who were contemporaries of Mace have long since passed from the scene. Joe Goss flourished for a time, winning the American championship from Tom Allen in 1876 and losing it four years later to Eddy Ryan. Twenty-three years ago this week Goss died in Boston, aged 45.

Joe Goss continued to fight for several years after his meetings with Mace. His career was brought to a close in 1877 when he was sent to Sing Sing for assault and battery on a New York policeman. He was released in 1882 and eight years later died in this city of consumption, at the age of 55.

THE RED MILL

Coming to the New Soloman Theatre
on Next Tuesday Evening,
April 7th.

"The Red Mill" which will come for the first time to the Soloman Theatre on April 7, is the one comic opera triumph of the past season to receive the endorsement of the dramatic critics and the paying public as well. In fact, the privileged "dead head" voted it the one supreme comic opera success of the year. "The Red Mill" might be termed a musical comedy in two acts. Mr. Blosson, always clever, wrote the dialogue and lyrics and Victor Herbert wrote the music. Both combined have made a play that will last as long, if not longer, than any comic opera. The story has to do with two young Americans who are doing Europe for the first time, but find when they strike the continent that their extravagance has led them to almost financial ruin.

They are discovered in an attempt to escape from a hotel, leaving their baggage behind, are apprehended, arrested and tried and are sentenced by the Burgomaster to work out their sentence to the keeper. Then begins a series of complications and exasperating situations which are brought to a climax in the first act, where they are helping two lovers to escape and go to the extreme in rescuing an imprisoned maiden from the mill by means of the revolving blade of fans, which they use to ascend and descend with the wheel.

The cast includes John Ford, as Con Kidder; William R. Swor, as Kid Connor; John B. Simpson, Harry Carter, Milton Dawson, Fied McGee, Maurice Lavigne, Charles Hopkins, and the Misses Viola Kollogg, Marguerite Fry, Sadie Kirby, Blanche de Dreux and a chorus of 50, including the Dutch Kiddles and an augmented orchestra.

VETERAN PITCHER.

Cy Young of Boston Americans 41
Years Old Today and Mound
Artist 19 Years.

Special to The Courier.
BOSTON, Mass., March 28.—"Cy" Young, the star pitcher of the Boston American League team and the dean of major league players in point of service, will be forty-one years old tomorrow. It was in the village of Gilmore, Ohio, which he still calls his home, that the future star of the diamond first saw the light of day, March 20, 1867.

Young this season will begin his 19th season in major league ball. In that time he has played with three clubs, Cleveland, St. Louis and Boston. In 1890 he was pitching for a nine in Canton, Ohio, when the Cleveland club purchased his release for $200. In his first game he shut out the heavy-hitting Chicago team, letting them down with three scattered hits. Young is the only pitcher who began in the Brotherhood year of 1890, who is still in harness in last company.

DOUBLE TRACKING P. F. & M. BRANCH

To Handle the Largely Increased Freight Traffic on B. & O.

REVISING ALL THE GRADES.

And Alignments Between Connellsville and Mt. Braddock on a Scale to Suit Most Modern Traffic—New Bridges to be Built.

To furnish facilities for the transportation of the increase in coke production in the region southeast of Connellsville, jumping a little over 1,000,000 tons in 1904 to about 7,000,000 tons in 1907, the Baltimore & Ohio railroad is double tracking its Fairmont, Morgantown & Pittsburg branch from Greene Junction to Mt. Braddock, a distance of about five miles. There are about 3,700 coke ovens within a distance of about ten miles, and the branch line affords excellent shipping facilities for this and other mineral products in that territory.

In addition to the second track, ample yard tracks will be provided at Mt. Braddock and additional siding facilities at Dunbar. The alignment and grades of the double track have been greatly revised to suit the most modern construction. The grading is principally embankments and the subgrade is being constructed to such a height as to be high above water all along the banks of the mountain streams. All the openings and bridges are being constructed to carry the heaviest motive power on the system. Under the supervision of D. D. Carothers, Chief Engineer, and A. M. Kinsman, Engineer of Construction, this work will be completed as soon as possible.

MAGIC LAND

Has a Big Week and a Bill for its Return Next Monday.

The week end now at Magic Land is an exceptional strong one. Carlin and Hayes' ever comedy sketch team brought out many laughs from the audiences. Miss Moore made more than good a black face comedian. The McDougall Brothers are certainly very clever comedians. Also, Pearl Davenport is a comedienne as ever. Miss Florence Rayfield with her sweet young voice, is a charming attraction. Last, but not least, the real headliner is Miss Lillian Dow, whom Manager Hantman has booked for only this week. The music loving people of Connellsville took to her singing from the first. She made quite a hit, responding to many requests.

Next week's show promises to be larger and better than ever. Dunstan and Leslie's great comedy sketch, Donita Sol & Co., the upside down Duffy, Miss Pearl Davenport and a special attraction, the Stoddard's comedy musical act, make up the bill for next week.

THE COME AND SEE SIGN

This sign is permanently attached to the front of the main building of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

What Does This Sign Mean?

It means that public inspection of the Laboratory and methods of doing business is here to be had. It means that there is nothing about the business which is not "open and above board."

It means that a permanent invitation is extended to anyone to come and verify any and all statements made in the advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Is it a purely vegetable compound made from roots and herbs—without drugs?

Come and See.

Do the women of America continually use as much of it as we are told?

Come and See.

Has there ever such a person as Lydia E. Pinkham, and is there any woman now to whom sick women are asked to write?

Come and See.

Is the vast private correspondence with sick women conducted by women only, and are the letters kept strictly confidential?

Come and See.

Have they really got letters from over one million, one hundred thousand women correspondents?

Come and See.

Have they proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands of these women?

Come and See.

This advertisement is only for doubters. The great army of women who know from their own personal experience that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female ills will still go on using and being benefited by it; but the poor doubting, suffering woman must, for her own sake, be taught confidence, for she also might just as well regain her health.

Send your order today and a case of More-lein's "brewing bottling" will be delivered promptly to your address.

Cold Settles on Kidneys.

Obtained Promptly by Using Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills.

Medical authorities place colds as the most frequent cause of kidney diseases.

It is customary to consider the lungs alone as in danger from colds. This is a mistake.

The kidneys are quite as susceptible as the lungs to colds and colds often settle on the kidneys and cause kidney diseases.

In a wonderfully short time Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills act for relief and cure.

By reason of their direct and combined action on kidneys, liver and bowels they cleanse the system, purify the blood and carry away the poisons generated by action of the cold.

The great secret of health lies in keeping these filtering and excretory organs regular and active and this can best be done by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills.

A. A. Clarke is glad to state that his patients are all cured of kidney diseases by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills are sold by all druggists and by mail, all charges prepaid, from Groux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.
